CIVIL WAR RAGES IN DUBLIN

WASHINGTON WATCHES NORTH DAKOTA FIGHT

M'CUMBER MAY LOSE RACE FOR RENOMINATION

Senator Stands Good Chance to Lose In Primaries

ADMIT RACE CLOSE

Lynn J. Frazier, Non-Partisan League Man is Opponent.

Washington, June 28.—Official and political Washington turned away from its tariff wrangle, the coal crisis and kindred worries today and watched with absorbing interest the North Dakota primaries in which one of the most conspicuous legislators in Washington in the last two decades is fighting for his political life—with an excellent chance of losing it.

Private advices reaching the capital from North Dakota indicate that Senator Porter J. McCumber, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee and principal author of the existing tariff and bonus bills, will be defeated for renomination in the Republican primary today by Lynn J. Frazier, the non partisan league's ex-governor.

McCumber's friends dispute the league's advance claims of a Frazier victory. They admit, however, that the result is going to be "extremely close" and some of the more pessimistic concede that "it looks like a fifty-fifty fight."

It is the irony of political fate that McCumber should be placed in jeopardy at this time after twenty three years continuous service in the senate, at a time when he has climbed the heights in a legislative way, and when, by the death of Boies Penrose, he has captured the senate's most coveted place, the chairmanship of the all powerful finance committee.

While McCumber's removal from Washington is frankly expected in some quarters of the capital, it would never the less cause a sensation in Washington. Its effect would be considerable on the Republican legislative program. For one thing, it would leave the present tariff bill and the present bonus bill fatherless, as Rep. Joseph W. Fordney, Republican of Michigan, the house sponsor of those two important measures, is also retiring from congress this season.

It would also bring Senator Reed Smoot, Republican of Utah, into the chairmanship of the finance committee and place next in line of succession Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin. The picture of La Follette's possible succession to the chairmanship of the finance committee brings cold shivers to many organization leaders.

The contest in North Dakota today is clear cut between Frazier and McCumber. There is another Republican candidate, Ormsby McHarg, but according to political leaders here his candidacy is not to be taken seriously except in so far as it affects the two principals.

While the quarrel in North Dakota is principally a Republican one, the Democrats are nevertheless deeply interested in it. Their probable candidate for senator is J. T. O'Connor, of Grand Forks, a Yale graduate and the Democrats are frankly hopeful that the McCumber-Frazier feud will become so intense as to split the party in November, allowing a Democrat to come to the senate from Dakota for the first time in many years.

DESPATCH OF AMERICAN WARSHIPS TO TAMPICO AWAITS FURTHER REPORTS

Washington, June 28.—Whether American warships are to be despatched to Tampico where from 40 to 50 Americans and a large amount of American property are being held for ransom, is dependent upon the nature of further reports from Mexico City and Tampico, it was said at the state department today.

Department officials stated they were without reports from either Charge d'Affaires Summerlin at Mexico City or Consul Shaw at Tampico.

New York, June 28.—An official of the Banking house of Knauth, Nachod and Kuhne, which furnished $5,000 gold for the ransom of A. Bruce Bielaski, former chief of the bureau of investigation of the American department of justice, said today that he momentarily expected news from Mexico City that Bielaski had been released by the bandits who kidnapped him.

BOY MINISTER IS CALM AFTER CRIME

Elliott Padrick, a twenty year old Methodist minister, of Augusta, Ga., is held in jail there after being charged with the murder of his wife and mother in law. His apparent composure and deliberate manner of replying to questions lead to the belief that he is mentally unbalanced.

FESS TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION AS COMMITTEE HEAD

Steps Out as Chairman of Republican Congressional Body.

Washington, June 28.—Congressman Simeon D. Fess, Ohio, today tendered his resignation as chairman of the National Republican committee, Fess is a candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, subject to the Ohio primaries, to be held August 8 next.

Congressman Fess became a member of the committee in 1918, during the 63rd congress and was placed at the head of the subcommittee on publicity. In the 64th congress, he was placed on the executive and finance sub committees. In the spring of 1918, he was unanimously elected chairman of the committee. He was unanimously re-elected chairman in 1920 and again in 1922.

EXECUTIVES OF RAILS NOT TO MEET DEMANDS

Ultimatum From Unions Likely Will Be Ignored By Owners

SCORE WAGE CUTS

Certain Working Rules Are Asked to Be Restored By Men.

Chicago, June 28.—Railway executives who were served last night with an ultimatum by the snoparists unions that a strike will be called July 1 unless certain demands are met, are not expected to accede to the unions demands, according to opinion prevalent in railroad circles here today. If the unions carry out their threat, the long threatened strike of the shophmen probably will be called Saturday.

The unions, in a 2,000 word telegram sent to T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the association of American Railway Executives, demand that the railroad managements ignore recent wage cuts ordered by the United States railway labor board, restore certain working rules which the board has revised and abolish the system of contracting out shop work. The alternative is a strike.

The telegram was sent by B. M. Jewel, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor. Jewel spoke as the representative of section two, of the department, which comprises machinists. Maintenance of way employees are not parties to the ultimatum. It is expected, however, that if the strike is called, the maintenance of way men will join in.

Jewel's telegram was sent after a series of conferences of union executives here. It was based upon a partial tabulation of the strike vote taken by the Union, which shows an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the strike vote.

Railway executives, it was announced today will meet in Chicago tomorrow to consider Jewel's ultimatum.

ROCK ISLAND FLYER JUMPS TRACK AND INJURES SCORE

Engineer and Fireman Seriously Hurt and Passengers Shaken

Lincoln, Neb., June 28.—The engineer and fireman were seriously injured and a score of passengers were hurt when the Rock Island flyer, west bound, went into a ditch near Prairie Home, Neb., at 7 o'clock this morning.

Spreading rails are believed to have been the cause of the accident.

Three passenger cars followed the locomotive in toppling down the embankment, all turning completely over.

Physicians and nurses were rushed to the wreck from Lincoln. Several of the injured are said to be Chicago passengers.

HAGUE CONFERENCE AT DANGER POINT ON DEBT QUESTION

The Hague, June 28.—The international conference on reconstruction of Russia approached dangerous shoals today when it took up the question of national debts.

Members of the Russian delegation conferred with the allied sub committee on debts, headed by M. Alphonse, a Frenchman. The French are understood to have received precise instructions from Paris to lay down hard and fast conditions which Russia must accept if the conference is to continue.

Owing to the large number of Frenchmen who own Russian government bonds France is insisting that the soviet recognize the whole Russian national debt, contracted both before and after the war. The Russians have consented to recognize the debt in principle, but claim that they cannot pay it. The outcome of the discussions today should show what chances the conference has of continuing.

The Russians stand pat on their decision announced at Genoa that they would not pay their war time debts, it was learned.

Bill Authorizes Harding To Stop Naval Building

One of Closing Steps in Scrapping America's Super-Navy as Agreed in Disarmament Treaty Taken On Wednesday

Washington, June 28.—One of the closing steps in scrapping America's super-navy, as agreed upon in the naval disarmament treaty, was taken today when a special senate subcommittee approved passage of a bill authorizing President Harding to abandon all naval construction programs and to destroy a large number of existing warships.

VIGOROUS FEDERAL ACTION IN MINE WAR THIS WEEK

Washington, June 28.—A joint conference of coal miners and coal operators to meet in Washington next Saturday morning under the governmental supervision was decided upon today by President Harding and his cabinet advisors.

Washington, June 28.—Vigorous federal action to establish a truce in the coal mine war, and to start refilling the nation's coal bin, now almost exhausted, will be taken before the week is over, according to opinions expressed today in administration circles.

While the White House, the commerce department and the labor department all observed silence as to the program of the government the impression grew that President Harding will not long delay the summoning of both operators and miners into a joint conference under governmental direction and supervision.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, remained in Washington today, for what purpose he did not make clear. "There is nothing new in the situation so far as I know," Lewis said, "except that the general situation is becoming worse. It will become worse daily until a settlement is effected, because, of course, every day brings absolute exhaustion of coal reserves that much closer."

Hundreds of farm buildings in Auglaize and Mercer counties were razed and growing crops aggregating in value hundreds of thousands of dollars literally destroyed by wind and a six inch precipitation of hail.

The third floor of the Deisel Weimer cigar factory at St. Marys was wrecked, entailing a loss of $25,000.

STORM NEAR LIMA CAUSES PROPERTY LOSS IN EXCESS OF HALF MILLION DOLLARS

Lima, June 28.—Property loss in excess of half a million dollars, it was estimated today, was caused by wind, hail and rain in a storm which reached cyclonic proportions in a district south and west of Lima last night. No loss of life, however has thus far been reported.

Hundreds of farm buildings in Auglaize and Mercer counties were razed and growing crops aggregating in value hundreds of thousands of dollars literally destroyed by wind and a six inch precipitation of hail.

The third floor of the Deisel Weimer cigar factory at St. Marys was wrecked, entailing a loss of $25,000.

SHERIFF READY TO TAKE QUICK ACTION IN MINERS' WAR

Striking Workers Threaten To March On Mines In Allegheny County

Pittsburgh, June 28.—Sheriff Robert G. Woodside was all set this morning to take quick and drastic action if 200 or more striking union miners attempt to carry out their announced intention to march today on thirty mines in the upper end of Allegheny County and "clean out" the non-union workers. Tuesday a band of marchers visited each home of a non-union worker and told the women folks that physical force would be used if necessary, the sheriff's office was informed.

"The 30 outlaw mines will and must be closed," was the ultimatum given the operators.

At Bowersville, Pa., the situation was a little easier today with the ordering of a large squad of state police into that town "I'm not going to take any chances with a Herrin disaster," said Sheriff I. Shaw, commenting on the fact that Brownsville and South Brownsville had virtually been placed under martial law.

TRENCH MORTARS USED BY FREE STATE TROOPS TO RAZE FOUR COURTS

Pitched Battle Rages Between Irish Irregulars and Free State Forces Early On Wednesday When Headquarters of Faction is Stormed

Long threatened warfare between the Irish Republicans and the supporters of the Irish free state broke out at Dublin today. Advances filed in London and Dublin this afternoon indicated that the Irish provisional government had successfully weathered the storm, and that the Republicans have been vanquished.

Reinforcements of regulars were rushed to Dublin, and at the same time precautions were taken to prevent Irregulars from making their way into the city.

From the number of men engaged and the violence of the action the fighting had all appearances of civil war. Many were killed and wounded, but official casualty lists are not yet available.

The battle opened at dawn when free state troops attacked the four courts building, headquarters of the irregular faction of the Irish Republican army and Fowler Hall, which the Irregulars were using for a barracks. Fowler Hall was quickly captured. The Four Courts building was wrecked and at last reports Irregulars were said to have barricaded themselves in the basement. Roderick O'Connor, commander of the Republican Irregulars was reported to have been wounded.

Dublin, June 27.—Fowler Hall, which was being used by the irregular faction of the Irish Republican army, was captured by the Irish Free State troops today after a violent battle which broke out at dawn.

At this hour the Four Courts building, headquarters of Roderick "Rory" O'Connor, commandant of the Irish Irregulars, was still in the possession of the anti-free state forces but was under heavy fire.

A state of civil war existed here today with violent fighting raging between Irish Free State troops and the irregular faction of the Irish Republican army.

Skirmishing which had been in progress all night gave way to a pitched battle at dawn when Free State troops attempted to storm and capture the Four Courts building, headquarters of the Irregulars.

Artillery, machine guns and armored cars were used in the fighting. Thousands of soldiers participated. Dublin and the suburbs were thrown into a panic. Thousands of residents have fled.

At 9:30 o'clock fighting was still in progress. The streets adjacent to the building were filled with ambulances and workers.

The casualties were not known but believed to be heavy.

In the fog, Free State troops moved from their barracks in armored cars and began an assault upon Fowler Hall, where Roderick "Rory" O'Connor, commandant of the Irregulars, was supposed to be. This hall was filled with irregular troops. Immediately that whole section of the city was aflame with the heaviest fighting that Dublin has known since the Easter uprising in 1916.

Above the sharp crackle of continuous rifle and pistol firing could be heard the rumbling thunder of bursting bombs.

Shortly after the fighting grew intense the Irish provisional government established a censorship of all dispatches but allowed news to be sent out concerning the progress of the engagement.

By six o'clock the Free State troops had surrounded the Four Courts building and were pouring in a hot fire from all sides. It was reported that the walls of the building had collapsed, but the International News Service representative from a distance could still see the dome indicating that the building was still standing. However, it was riddled with bullets.

It was reported at 7 o'clock that O'Connor and his troops had withdrawn and were retreating. As the roar of battle grew many residents mounted roofs of buildings to get a view of the combatants. These bold spirits ran a risk, however as spent bullets were flying in every direction. The streets were littered with debris of all descriptions.

NUMBER DEAD AT 15.

London, June 28.—The dead in today's battle at Dublin were estimated at 15, said a Central News dispatch from Dublin this afternoon. The dispatch said that fire had broken out in the Four Courts building and that it was feared that gasoline, stored in the structure would explode. Later the fire was extinguished. A few Irregulars were reported to be holding out in the Fowler Hall area.

The Irish provisional government is understood to have delivered an ultimatum to Commandant O'Connor of the rebels, just before midnight, giving him one hour to withdraw his troops from their headquarters and barracks.

Later the Free Staters, to show they are in earnest, grew up field guns in the streets about Fowler Hall and the Four Courts building.

A drizzle of rain started to fall and a wave of fog drifted over the city. Firing broke out near Fowler Hall, smashing some of the lights. The wet, murky weather gave a grimmer aspect to the situation.

The armored cars used by the Free Staters were armed with heavy Hotchkiss guns.

Three wounded men died in hospitals.

Doctors said they saw a number of dead men lying in the battle area.

Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill, in the house of commons at London had warned the Irish Free State on Monday that the headquarters of the irregular section of the Irish Republican army would have to be cleaned up.

Fowler Hall was taken by a single armored car, which broke through the ranks of the Irregulars. Rain fell throughout the battle and the smoke from bursting bombs and artillery shells hung low and thick over the battle scene.

The fighting had all the aspects of civil war between the Free Staters and Republicans, but the panic which accompanied the early phase of the engagement, died down and at this hour the people outside of the battle zone were beginning to go about their daily business.

Free State troops were posted in

CONSULATE RAIDED

Tokio, June 28.—A report was received here this afternoon that the Japanese consulate at Tautao Kow, Manchuria, has been raided and burned by Chinese bandits.

NEW GRANGE FORMED AT JAMESTOWN WITH OVER 100 MEMBERS

With 121 charter members, organization of the new Jamestown Grange was completed at a meeting held in Jamestown, Monday night, when the charter was closed.

At the same time a new Jamestown Juvenile Grange composed of youthful grangers under 14 years of age, also closed its charter with a large membership. The Grange was organized through the efforts of S. H. Shawhan, county deputy, while Mrs. Shawhan organized the Juvenile Grange.

Elmer H. Smith is Master of the new Jamestown Grange, which supercedes lukewarm grange organizations that had become extinct in Jamestown and Bowersville. Other officers elected were: J. D. Ballard, Overseer; Mrs. G. M. Keach, Lecturer; Clyde Bullock, Steward; Fred Lewis, Assistant Steward; J. F. Gordon, Chaplain; C. Y. Ridemour, Treasurer; W. F. Fitzpatrick, Secretary. E. H. Huston, Gate Keeper; Miss Lella Bullock Ceres; Miss Erma Tedrick, Pomona; Miss Lora Smith, Flora and Mrs. Fred Lewis, Lady Assistant Steward.

Besides these regular Grange officers, the new Grange elected three extra officers, as follows: Mrs. Harold Lewis, musical director; A. B. Lewis, business agent and G. M. Keach, Legislative Agent. Action taken at the first meeting resulted in a decision to be included in the annual Grange exhibit at the Greene County Fair this year. New members will be taken in by initiation, it has been decided.

The new Jamestown Juvenile Grange was organized with Charles Snodgrass, as Master; Miss Mary Smith, Overseer; Miss Donna Talbott, Lecturer; Merle Leach, Chaplain; Miss Donna Bryan, Treasurer; Miss Velma Stephens, Secretary; Neal Talbott, Gate Keeper; Donald Stephens, Steward; Miss Marie Talbott, Assistant Steward; Miss Michel Cline Pomona; Miss Lella Stephens, Flora and Miss Lillian Gordon, Ceres. The junior organization has the same password, grip and communicating signs as the elder Grangers and is operated on the same plan. It will meet at the same time, though in a separate room and Mrs. J. F. Gordon, will act as matron in charge of the Juvenile Grange, of which there are now five or six in the county.

The new Jamestown Grange looks promising, according to County Deputy Shawhan who was active in its organization. He points out that the charter of 121 members obtained during harvest time without solicitation, is a good record for membership. The organization of the Jamestown Grange makes the eighth in the county with a total membership of about 1300 Grangers.

ISSUES WARNING AGAINST DEFECTIVE FLUES IN HOUSES

Following a fire starting from a defective flue that destroyed a cottage on East Church Street early Tuesday morning, Captain Charles Mahana of the fire department issued a request for citizens to examine the flues in their houses.

"Defective flues cause a large percentage of all fires," said the fire chief. "We were called to this same house a week ago when a defective flue started a fire, but the flue had not been fixed in the meantime. If renters who find bad flues in their houses will report the case to me I will see that they are repaired."

Social and Personal

CHARMING RECITAL GIVEN BY PUPILS

Mrs. David Jones Davies and Miss Eva Johnson, music instructors, are responsible for a charming evening of music, given by their pupils, and enjoyed by an audience that filled the First United Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening.

Eleven pupils, nearly all of whom were little folks, just beginning their instructions, participated in the program. Each participant executed his part of the program without the written music, with ease and confidence, which reflected upon their instructors.

Each number was well received, the number "Spring Song" by Mendelssohn, played by Miss Elizabeth Bickett, with the orchestra part on the organ, played by Miss Johnson, being particularly pleasing.

The following pupils took part in the program: Doris Neil McCormick, H. E. Schmidt, Sarah Davidson, Eleanor McKay, Elizabeth Bickett, Mary Elizabeth McDorman, Elizabeth Alexander, Thelma Wagner, Gertrude Jack, Mary Dakin and Mildred Fudge.

EASTERN STAR MEMBERS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lighthouse graciously received forty five members of the Aldora Chapter O. E. S., and their families, at their home on South Monroe street, Tuesday evening, at a lawn party, planned by the social committee of the lodge.

The principal feature of the evening was a covered dish supper, served on the lawn, cafeteria style. Incandescents furnished the light for the pretty Lighthouse lawn, which was the scene of much merry-making during the evening. Following the supper, the remainder of the evening was devoted to enjoying games, and contests, prizes being awarded the winners of the various sports. During the latter part of the evening, readings by Mrs. J. C. Denham and Mrs. Susan Wulst, of Dayton, were given. Music and an informal social time were enjoyed throughout the evening.

RECEIVE MEMBERS OF SUNSHINE SOCIETY

Mrs. Charles Whitmer of Hill St., threw open her home to the members of the Sunshine Society, for the regular monthly meeting, Tuesday.

The meeting was planned as an all-day affair, the society members spending the day knitting comforts, which will be sent to the national headquarters, and be distributed to the Blind Babies' Home. A covered dish dinner was served at noon.

Members of the society have decided not to hold meetings during July and August, due to the warm weather.

Miss Eleanor Hall is visiting in Loveland, Ohio, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Al Veith. She will spend a week or ten days there.

Mrs. Clarence Whitmer, of Chicago, has arrived for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Garfield, on North Detroit street. Mr. Garfield, who has been in falling health for some time, shows no improvement.

The women of the Alpha M. P. Church will hold a market in Ralph Neel's rooms on West Main street at 9 a. m. Saturday July 1st.

RAIN FAILS TO STOP KIWANIS ROTARY GAME

Rain that fell during Wednesday morning did not stop the scheduled Rotary-Kiwanis Club baseball game at Washington Street Ball Park, Wednesday afternoon.

When the rain was finished the diamond was still in good condition, and the warm sun that followed the rain drops, had practically dried the field by game time.

Elbert Babb, groundskeeper, reported Wednesday shortly after noon that the field would be fit for playing and as a result the game was started at 2:30 o'clock.

London, June 28.—A real romance, begun in war time, uniting a poor youth to a rich girl, culminated here today in the marriage of Harold Sanford Glendenning, of Norwalk, Conn., a Rhode Island, and son of a former mail carrier, and Miss Alicia Dupont, of Wilmington, heiress, to one of the greatest fortunes in America.

Miss Dupont met Glendenning while the latter was working as a chemist at one of her father's munitions plants.

The nuptial ceremony today took place at 11:30 o'clock in the fashionable St. Paul's Church at Knightsbridge. The Rev. Dr. Boyde officiated.

WORTHINGTON SAID TO BE NEAR DEATH

Chicago, June 28.—John W. Worthington, under a score of indictments as being the master mind of a gigantic robbery trust, was dying today as a result of tortures administered when he was kidnaped by a band of his former associates.

According to reports, Worthington was taken to a lonely spot several days ago and beaten with a weighted rubber hose and tortured with a red hot iron bar.

Following the torture Worthington is said to have taken his captors to a bank here and turned over to them $25,000 in securities.

Gangrene developed in his feet. Physicians stated his death was expected hourly.

The radiator on their machine was mashed and the windshield broken, while a bent fender was the extent of the injury of the Beatty car. Beatty brought members of the other party back to this city.

VICTORY IS SCORED BY "TARIFF BLOC"

Washington, June 28.—Republican agricultural "tariff bloc" scored an overwhelming victory today in the first test vote on the adoption of sharply increased tariffs on farm products.

With scattered support from southwestern Democrats, the "bloc" forced adoption of fifteen percent higher rates on cattle, the first item to be voted upon the agricultural schedule. The vote was 49 to 15.

MANY POLITICAL PRISONERS WILL BE RELEASED SOON

Washington, June 28.—President Harding, approving recommendations of the department of justice, will release a considerable number of so-called political prisoners soon, but not as a result of change in the administration's policy toward the war time offenders, it was learned today.

There are 96 inmates in federal prisons in this class. Pardon attorneys have practically finished review of the cases, of many whose pleas for commutation probably will gain executive clemency. The attorney general is expected soon to forward the record in these cases for action by the president.

A number in which favorable action will be taken include I. W. W.'s who are shown by later evidence to be deserving of release.

FORMER MAYOR DIES

Springfield, June 28.—Former Mayor Charles F. McGilvray, 73, manufacturer and banker, died yesterday at his home of diabetes, following a several months illness. He became seriously ill while in Miami, Fla., and returned home in May. Mr. McGilvray came to Springfield in 1884 and joined the Robbins and Myers Company, later being elected president and general manager of the company. A few weeks ago he resigned the presidency and was made chairman of the board of directors.

OUSTER PROCEEDINGS ARE BEGUN AGAINST MAYOR

Akron, June 28.—Ouster proceedings against Mayor George Hardman and eight other city officials and members of the city council of Cuyahoga Falls, were started in the ninth district court, of appeals here yesterday. The defendants were all elected on a Citizens' Independent ticket last fall. Quo warranto proceedings were filed against them by the respective Republican nominees they had defeated.

Each of the actions is predicated upon a recent decision of the state supreme court that a candidate nominated by petition after the holding of the regular primary nomination election and elected to office on such an independent ticket is holding such office illegally because he was not duly nominated.

ESCAPE INJURY AS AUTO OVERTURNS ON BELLBROOK PIKE

C. K. Cox, Rural Mail Carrier, No. 1, out of Yellow Springs, with John Cathers and Robert Ratue of Yellow Springs, narrowly escaped death or serious injury Sunday morning when the Ford car in which they were riding overturned and plunged down an eight-foot embankment near the James Fair farm on the Xenia and Bellbrook pike.

The party had spent Saturday afternoon and night fishing at the dam near Bellbrook, and was starting on the return trip Sunday morning when the accident happened. Cox, who was driving, claims that he turned out to give a large machine room to pass, and that the other car claimed more of the road than necessary, forcing them to the edge of the pike, the machine slipping off into the ditch, and turning completely over.

Cox and Ratue were able to extricate themselves but Cathers who was in the back seat, was pinned beneath the car. A winter top on the machine is believed to have saved the occupants from serious injury although all were bruised and cut by glass, the top and windshield being demolished. After the machine had been righted on the road, the party was able to proceed.

NEW TURN TAKEN IN SHOOTING CASE; WOMAN RELEASED

Freeport, N. Y., June 28.—The mysterious shooting of Oscar A. Hirsh, wealthy electrical contractor, on the lawn of Reine Davis, former movie actress, late Sunday night, took another turn yesterday when Mrs. Hazel Hirsh, released on bail after having been accused of shooting her husband, took him home from the Mineola Hospital to nurse him back to health.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hirsh denied she had pulled the trigger in a scuffle which had followed their departure from a party by Miss Davies, but neither said who had fired the shot whether Mr. Hirsh or a third person.

In her first public statement since the party broke up in a wild scramble as the shot was heard on the quiet street, Mrs. Hirsh said that, far from firing the shot, she was doing everything possible to prevent it.

Hirsh defended his wife. "You don't think I would be fool enough to come back to a wife who had shot me, do you?" He was quoted by his attorney. "If she was the kind of a woman who would shoot, would she be the kind I could shield. If she shot me, I certainly would not have attempted to shield her."

It is silly for anyone to think that I would do anything to harm my husband," Mrs. Hirsh declared. "Our relations have been too close. My husband knows I was not responsible in any way for his being shot, and he knows I did everything possible to avoid his being shot by trying to save him."

According to Haft the Hamilton ball park will seat at least 12,000 people.

THE NOBLE PROFESSION OF TEACHING.

It is recommended to our best young people that they consider the following advantages of the profession of teaching:

1. Teaching pays. Besides ever-increasing financial compensation, the teaching profession offers the highest social sanctions and rewards.
2. Teaching is a growing profession. The nation now requires the services of 700,000 teachers. There is a strong demand that teachers be better trained. As training increases, the financial and social rewards likewise increase.
3. Teaching offers a growing career. The well-trained teacher need have no fear of unemployment, but may look forward to increasing opportunities commensurate with added training and growth in personal fitness.
4. Teaching offers mental and moral growth. The soundest mental and moral processes are involved in the making of good citizens.
5. Teaching is building. The teacher shapes the unfolding life of childhood and radiates ideals and purposes that in the citizenship of tomorrow will become the fabric of an improved social structure.
6. Teaching inspires high ideals. There is nothing nobler or more practical than to shape and to guide the ideals and practices of the young citizens who are soon to be the nation's responsible leaders.

MAKING A TARIFF LAW.

For several weeks the Senate of the United States has been struggling with the tariff bill, and it is safe to predict that it will be struggling with it for weeks to come. There is no other issue on which Senators, or, for that matter, all men interested in politics, divide so sharply on party lines as they divide on the tariff. Consequently, whenever either party undertakes to overthrow the tariff law that the other party framed every inch of ground is contested.

The controversy in the Senate is almost interminable. The House, with its convenient rules for cutting off debate, always makes short work of a tariff bill. When the Ways and Means Committee, which prepares the measure, reports it to the House it presents a bill in the drafting of which only members of the majority party have taken part. It is purely a party measure. When it is introduced a special rule is proposed and adopted that limits general debate to a certain number of days or hours and forbids the offering of any amendment. Therefore the bill, supported by the majority, is passed exactly as reported and goes to the Senate; but there it is examined as with a microscope. To illustrate the difference the Dingley Act of 1897 was only ten days in getting through the House but forty-four days in getting through the Senate.

The bill now pending has been discussed in the Senate more systematically than any previous bill, for, although long debates always take place on some items, the present bill was attacked in the very first item, and the fight has continued on most of the items that come after it. Acetic acid alone took several days, and at the end of a fortnight only a small part of the first schedule—that of chemicals—had been finished. At that rate it will be months before the Senate will reach the last of the many thousands of items in the bill.

PRAISE FOR UTILITIES.

It is estimated that gas and electric companies in Wisconsin will spend more than $50,000,000 this year for improvements, the latter to include new construction work, the extension of plants and additional equipment.

The immediate effect of these undertakings, it is plain, will be to furnish much new employment for workers and to stimulate trade and industry, not only as the result of purchases made by the concerns which will carry out these improvements, but resulting from the additional purchasing power of the workers who will be employed. And the ultimate effect will be greatly to improve the public service, with respect to transportation, gas, telephone and electric service, and permanently to add to the wealth of the state and to its facilities for larger and more profitable business operations along other lines.

The people of Wisconsin well may congratulate themselves that public utility corporations in that state are so situated that they can go ahead with such an extensive program of improvements, and they are willing to invest additional capital in their plants and equipment in order to improve and extend their service. The fact that they are so conditioned, moreover, and also are prepared and planning to invest much new capital in improvements evidently is a testimonial to the Wisconsin system of controlling and regulating these corporations through an expert and impartial state commission, and a further testimonial to the fairness and justice of this commission in the discharge of its duties.

HOLD ONTO YOUR JOB.

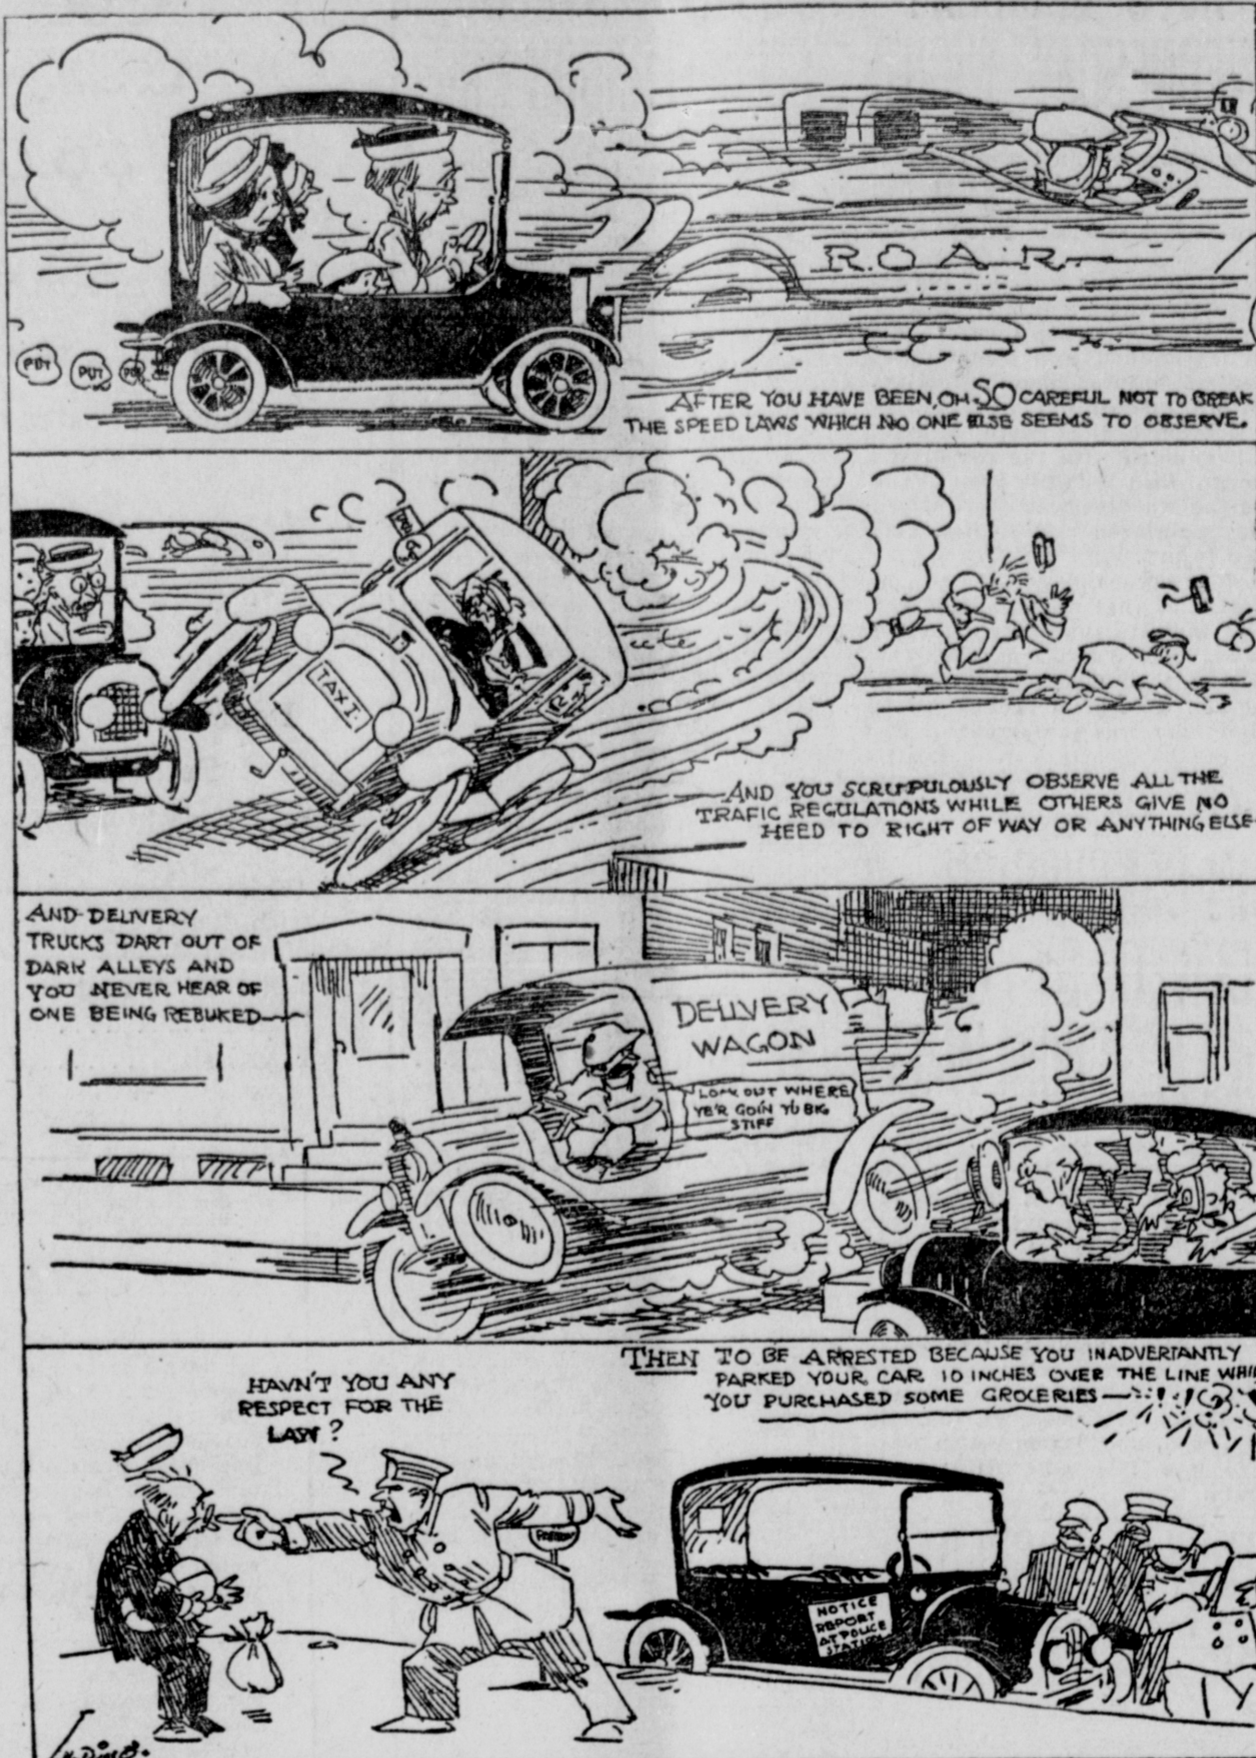

America is the land of many chances and recurring changes. It is hard for the average citizen to conceive of opportunity as the ancient Greeks did. They saw him as a fleet messenger, with wings upon his heels and a forelock of hair of sufficient length for them to seize him as he approached and lay hold upon him lest he should speedily flee away. Today in modern America the typical youth feels that opportunity is something that comes and goes, by frequent approaches and repeated returns. Why should he worry about the opportunity he has today? Tomorrow it will come again, or another one of equal value. But that is a deception which the luxurious life of America works upon the human spirit. More and more we are coming to the place where the job one holds is of increasing value. In Great Britain, or in almost any place on the continent, if a man has a job he holds onto it with all the vigor of his spirit for fear he should lose it.

DO YOU KNOW?

Canada's leading industry with the largest capital is the electric light and power plants, which have an invested capital of $416,000,000.

One of New York's most enterprising hotels uses each year 375,000 pounds of butter, 500,000 quarts of milk and over 2,000,000 eggs.

WONDER IF IT STRIKES OTHE RS THE WAY IT DOES US?

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

An article appeared in the Enquirer yesterday morning stating that before and during the Civil War Tawawa Springs, situated three miles east of Wilberforce, was a famous summer resort for southerners and many older citizens of Ohio recall pleasant days spent there. Wilberforce has been an educational place for colored people since May, 1856.

The reunion of ex-pupils of the O. S. and S. O. Home will begin tomorrow and will continue

Today's Talk

THE BOY WHO CAME BACK

In the Bible there is a story of a young man who thought that his home was not good enough for him. So he went away.

He sought thrills, venerated pleasures, and "easy money"—without working for it. It is said that he fed upon the husks of the swine-head.

But the young man soon tired—as all such do. He wanted to hear again the voice of home, and to eat home cooking, and to have a happy bed to sleep in. And so he decided to go back. "I will arise and go to my father," he said.

His pride has been broken. He was ragged and discouraged. But he was not so far gone that he was unable to face things definitely anew.

As he neared his home a thrill that he had never known before came over him. His father ran to meet him with outstretched arms. And so glad was the father to see him that he ordered the finest dinner and celebration that he could think up. "For," said he, "my boy, whom I thought was dead, is alive!"

Some of the other members of the family didn't seem to like the idea of taking him back. But not the father. Which goes to prove that there is

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

THE WONDER CAR.

Month after month she goes a-chooing, and all she asks is oil and gas; along the pike, speed cops pursuing, you see her like chain lightning pass, pedestrians and farm stock strewing in heaps upon the wayside grass. Month after month, through mud and gravel, on errands vain I make her fly, and nothing seems to rip or ravel, she's always full of pep, and spry; and speed cops, worn by ceaseless travel, crawl under some tall tree and die. Month after month, without repairing, without a wrench among her works, I send her whizzing, scooting, tearing, up mountain roads where danger lurks; and speed cops, tired and vainly swearing, resign, and hire as grocers' clerks. Month after month my car goes swinging, the envy of all other chaps, along the road, her rear wheels flinging the mud in chunks, the clay in scraps; and speed cops stand, their worn hands wringing, or tearing whiskers from their maps. And then some day she breaks a casting, she stops, a helpless also ran; and I must wait hours everlasting, before there comes the fix-it man; and dreading I stand dodgast the men who made so punk a van. Her long, long service all forgotten, I cuss, a symbol of despair; "The stuff they use in cars is rotten," I say, with cold and stony glare; "when once a car is sold and boughten, the makers have no other care. This auto graft sure makes me tingle and long to wield a snickersnee; I'd like to warp a tight surcingle on those who wished this wain on me." And speed cops gaze from dell and dingle, and chortle in unholy glee.

AFTER EFFECTS OF THE WAR BROUGHT HOME IN CASE OF EX-SOLDIER STRICKEN HERE

Greene County Red Cross and city officials were given a clear illustration of the pitiful after-effects of the World War, in the case of Frank Mitchell, of Horton, Kansas, who was stricken on the Court House lawn, Monday evening, suffering from pressure on the brain, caused by a fracture of the skull, he sustained while fighting in the English army, at Vimy Ridge, on August 16, 1918.

According to Mitchell, he had been discharged from the United States Veteran's Hospital at St. Louis, on May 18, and was on his way to his home in Horton, Kansas, when he was stricken. He was unable to tell where he was and had no knowledge of his coming to this city.

Following his attack he was removed to the police station, and later to the American Legion rooms, where he was given medical attention, by Dr. C. H. Denser, who with the aid of Miss Louise B. Shaffer, secretary of the Greene County chapter, of the Red Cross, was able to learn the stricken veteran's meagre story.

Mitchell stated that he had served with the English army in Palestine, and through Egypt, and named several places he had seen during service. Harry Williams of this city, who also served under the English flag, talked to Mitchell, said there was no doubt as to his story being true, since he mentioned places where they had both been stationed.

Mitchell gave the names of his father, and two brothers, Harry and Thomas Mitchell, who live in Kansas, with whom the local authorities communicated, to learn more facts concerning the stricken man. According to his story, one of his brothers, is a student at the Kansas State University, and another at the Veterans' Training School at Horton.

Miss Shaffer, Red Cross secretary, and J. E. Watts, juvenile court officer, took Mitchell to Dayton, Tuesday afternoon, where he was placed in the National Military home, until his condition warrants his ben discharged to return to his home in Kansas.

While telling his story Mitchell appeared rational, and with the exception of extreme nervousness was able to tell clearly as much of his life as he could remember. He recalled events of his service, but was unable to tell how he came to this city. The contents of a suitcase he had with him threw little light on the information needed by authorities, and Mitchell spoke of a small black bag, he had with him, and which was missing. It is thought that it was left on a bench of the Court House lawn and picked up by a passerby. Authorities are requesting that the finder return the bag to the police station, since the contents are valuable to anyone except the owner.

PROHIBITION BIG CHAPTER IN REFORM

Chicago, June 28.—The prohibition amendment and the Volstead act were described as marking the "greatest chapter in America's story of moral reform" in a statement issued here by the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church. The statement was a plea for support of prohibition legislation.

"Allowing that all the results anticipated from the Volstead act have not been realized," the statement said "that fact lies not against the law but against those who have failed in its enforcement and against those who have encouraged the betrayal of administrative trust."

"Let us choose for office only those who have established their right of recognition as friends of probatory reform."

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

It ought not to be a difficult task to arouse the interest of Ohio Club women in our National Wood Lot," as Mrs. Lyle S. Evans, Chillicothe, phrases it. She is the state federation's chairman of conservation and she asks every Ohio club woman to take a special interest in the preservation of forests.

"I hope to convince club women that reforestation is not only a personal interest, but that it is one of the nation's vital problems," Mrs. Evans observes in a special message to Ohio federation members. "For three decades public attention has been called to the dangerous inroads made on our forest resources. It is estimated that more people are employed in lumbering and wood-using factories than in any other industry except agricultural pursuits."

It is said that a popular novel means the destruction of 7,000 trees. Conservation problems represent long-continued efforts in education. In this, the women of our federation can be of investimable value. Will you aid in every possible way and co-operate with a state-and-national program of reforestation?"

Ohio club women, home from the big biennial meet at Chautauqua, N. Y., highly elated over the successful results of the gathering, and of the striking way they were received on every hand. Ohio federation club women, who were so fortunate as to attend, came away from the general convention doubly proud of their state federation for its distinguished service which was so generally recognized at Chautauqua.

Ohio remains a shining light in national club affairs, praise for the state federation's work was voiced in the delegation of many states. Their dream of a club home may soon be realized by Columbus club women. Mrs. Edmund F. Arras, president of the Columbus federation, has named a committee to investigate and glean all information possible with regard to available places for a

Youngstown clubs, one way or the other, keep pretty busy the entire year. The Ohio club has been sewing for the City hospital. It also devoted a solid week to sewing for the so-called blind counter in one of the Youngstown stores.

Members of the Coterie club sewed for the Visiting Nurse association and the City hospital. One of the interesting and helpful parts of their program for the year was a study of the Bible. Mrs. John Heslip, No. 224 West Madison street, Youngstown, will gladly furnish any information regarding the method of this Bible study.

The Council of Jewish Women maintains the Council cottage, where sewing and cooking classes are conducted twice a week in the afternoon for children. This organization started to do Americanization work in this cottage, but the number grew so large that it became necessary to do this work in a larger room, at the Wood Street school building, as secured for the purpose. The council has organized a Junior council for girls of the high school and these girls have in turn organized the class for campfire girls. They have assisted at the council's cottage with the teaching of different classes, having Bible and parliamentary law classes. The Youngstown Council of Jewish women has done a great deal in immigrant work, finding employment for girls at different times. The council has a Bible-study class within its own membership with Dr. Philo as class leader. It has a membership of 160.

WILMINGTON BANK WILL OCCUPY NEW BUILDING SHORTLY

The First National Bank of Wilmington, oldest bank in that city, will begin construction within a few weeks of a new home, at the corner of Main and South streets, on the lot made vacant when the old Clinton County Court House was razed.

The bank at present occupies a building on the opposite corner which it has occupied for 48 years. When the Court House lot was sold, the bank bid it in for the purpose of erecting the new building, delaying construction until building conditions were more settled.

Werner and Adkins, Cincinnati architects, who designed the new Clinton County Court House, have prepared plans for the new bank building and the contract has been let to A. P. Evland, Wilmington contractor. The lot owned by the bank has 102-feet frontage on South St. and 90 feet on Main St. The new bank building of Italian architecture, will have a 44 foot frontage on South St. and 75-feet on Main St., leaving a 15-foot passage way between the new building and the building occupied by the Palms restaurant. The 58-foot lot on the north side of the new bank building will not be utilized at present. It is expected to have construction of the new bank finished by March 1, 1923.

HEARING DEVELOPS PHONE VALUATION HIGHER THAN LISTED

A hearing on the proposed increased rates in Dayton of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company under the unified system, Tuesday, developed that the property of the telephone company in Dayton is valued at nearly $4,000,000 more by the company than for taxation purposes.

Witnesses for the telephone company testified that their property had a valuation in excess of $8,000,000 in Dayton. Figures given by County Treasurer Charles Kline to City Manager Eichelberger showed that all telephone property in Dayton was taxed on a valuation of but $2,682,270.

C. S. Maltby, Columbus attorney, representing the telephone company explained the discrepancy by saying that the difference was only the usual difference in valuation for taxation by taxing boards and true values of properties.

The city is holding that there should not be an increase in phone rates in Dayton because the franchise under which the telephone company operates stipulates that rates shall be no higher in Dayton than in other cities of approximate size. The city is also opposing the proposed step of the company which intimates that the company might discontinue two and four party business telephones.

PHOTOGRAPHS SHOW SCENES AT CAMP

Photographs, showing scenes at Camp Smoky Hollow two miles from Xenia on the Fairground road, where the Boy Scouts are encamped, are on display in the window of Jobe Brothers Company on East Main Street.

The Scouts under the supervision of Rev. William H. Tilford and Leigh Nisbet began their outing last week making camp on a site near the Little Miami river, where aquatic sports are the order of the day.

Sixteen boys make up the party which will remain in camp until the latter part of this week or the first of next. Scout activities, drills and instruction keep the boys busy during the day, all of which are shown in the pictures on display at Jobe's Store.

Equipment being used by the Boy Scouts has been purchased by the Kiwanis Club and loaned to the Scouts for their encampment, prior to the Community Camp which starts July 5. Following the breaking of camp by the Scouts, the tents and other equipment will be moved to another site which is now under consideration for the first of the series of four camps being sponsored by the Kiwanis Club for the boys of the city. Boys between the ages of 10 to 16 are eligible to admittance to the Community camp, the only cost being that of board which will be $11.00 for the ten days' outing.

The camp is being financed by the Kiwanis-Rotary baseball game which will be staged Wednesday afternoon.

LEAVE FOR BOSTON

Mrs. Frank Routzong, of the Fairfield pike, left Wednesday afternoon for Boston, where she will spend several days. From there she will join several friends and leave for Lakg Ossipee, New Hampshire, where the party will enjoy a camping trip over the week end.

The camp is located near White Mountain, which they will also visit. Mrs. Routzong expects to be gone about two weeks, returning to Boston for a further stay after the camping outing.

BONDS ISSUED FOR MALL

Cleveland, June 28.—Acting Mayor Paul J. Lamb has signed the ordinance providing for the issuance of $2,600,000 in bonds, to complete the purchase of land, needed for the mall, Cleveland's civic center.

These Twin Babies escaped Chafing, Rashes and Skin Irritation by use of Sykes Comfort Powder

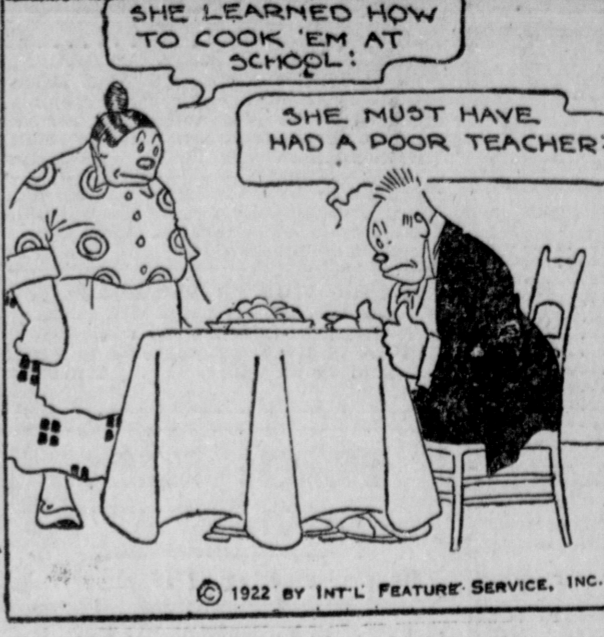

Grand Rapids, Mich. — "These twin babies have been under my care since birth. Not a day has passed without the use of Sykes Comfort Powder. They have a beautiful skin and have never had ablemish of chafing, rashes, scalding, prickly heat from which so many babies suffer. I wish every mother could know about Sykes Comfort Powder." — Nettie G. Lavan, R. N., Grand Rapids, Mich.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums.

A NOURISHING SUPPER

Try the following nourishing supper on your home table:

Egg-Cream Toast
Prize Johnny Cake
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Mayonnaise Dressing

Cocoa Transparent Pudding
Egg-Cream Toast: Toast one slice of bread for every member of the family. Also hard-boil one egg apiece. Now make a cream dressing by heating one pint of sweet milk, season with salt and pepper to taste, and thicken with one tablespoon of cornstarch which has been mixed to a paste with a little extra milk. Remove shells from the hard-boiled eggs and separate the whites from the yolks. Mash the yolks and set them aside. Chop the whites very finely. Stir the chopped whites into the cream dressing and turn the hot dressing over the toast-slices. Press the yolks through a sieve and sprinkle this on top of the cream dressing evenly, by moving the sieve as you force the yolks through. (Contributed by S. A. Z.)

Prize Johnny Cake: Mix together one cup of granulated sugar, one cup of cream, two thoroughly beaten eggs, and the following ingredients sifted together: one cup of cornmeal, one cup of flour, one teaspoon of soda and one-fourth teaspoon of salt. Turn the mixture into a greased pan and bake in a hot oven for about 35 minutes. (Contributed by P. J. A.)

Stuffed Tomato Salad: Scoop out the interiors of washed, halved tomatoes and fill these cups with seasoned cream cheese. Place three walnut-meats on top the cream cheese, to decorate, and add a dash of the following:

Mayonnaise Dressing: Beat together one-half cup of granulated sugar, the yolks of three eggs, one-half cup of cream (sweet or sour—or you can use, instead, the same amount of thick canned milk,) and a level tablespoon of flour. Heat this mixture till it boils up; then remove it from fire and add a pinch of salt and vinegar to suit individual taste. This is also a fine dressing for cold slaw, plain lettuce, cucumbers, or beet salad. A half-teaspoon of prepared mustard may be added if liked.

Transparent Pudding: Boil together one pint of water and one cup of sugar; after a moment of boiling (when the sugar is melted) add three tablespoons of cornstarch dissolved in a little cold water. Now let the mixture boil about eight minutes—till transparent and thickened. Then take it from the range, add the juice and grated rind of one lemon and cool. When cold, stir in the sweetened pulp of three oranges and top with a stiffly whipped egg-white sweetened with one tablespoon of sugar and flavored (and stiffened) with a tablespoon of any kind of jelly or jam.

Tomorrow—Bed Hygiene.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney trouble and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what an Xenia woman says:

Mrs. Hannah A. Reed, 520 W. Second St., says: "There were times when I stooped while washing that I got severe stabs of pain through my back, and I could hardly rise again. My back was so stiff. When I got up mornings I was lame and tired. My back throbbed in the morning just as if I had been pounded with a club. My kidneys were irregular in action and caused me annoyance. Colds settled on my kidneys and this started my trouble. About three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, which were highly recommended to me, relieved me of those pains in my back. My kidneys became normal and regular in every way." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BLACK DAYS

CHAPTER 4

Nellie grew pale and pinched looking, but she never wavered in her belief that soon she would find an office position. In one office she might have been taken on had they not given her a sheet of paper and told her to type from dictation. When she turned in the sheet, well typed, but horribly misspelled, she was summarily told she'd better go to school and learn to spell.

"With so many needing help I sure will fit in somewhere," she kept telling herself.

Her money melted although she denied herself sufficient food and often felt faint and dizzy. She had to have carfare, and Mrs. Dooley had to have her rent. But she could not pay another week—she had but $2 left in her purse. It was four days before her week was up. If she didn't find a place in that time, why—she shuddered a little, but set her lips tightly together. She would not go back to Hudson Corners, even if she had had money to get there, but she would find work.

But when Friday came and she had no success, when the half day in which offices were opened on Saturday, she threw herself on the bed in a very agony of despair.

"I'm good and I need work. Please God, let me find something to do," she prayed, but without hope. So often in the last weeks she had said the same prayer.

She would find Cora Baker! Saturday afternoon Nellie spent in brushing and sponging the blue tailored suit that, old in the first place, was beginning to look shiny and worn, and in washing and pressing her one set of collar and cuffs, and blackening her shoes that were beginning to look so shabby from much tramping. She would tell Cora just how hard she had tried. Perhaps she would know of some place they needed a girl who would work for small pay until she learned to spell.

Fortunately she found Cora at home in the boarding house where she lived. It was a grade better house than Mrs. Dooley's, a bit better furnished, in a better locality. It was filled mostly, Cora told Nellie, with work girls, the rest clerks and models.

Oh, how nice! Nellie said, "You can talk your work over together. There ain't anyone at Mrs. Dooley's I could talk to even if I get a job, which I guess I won't."

Cora urged her confidence, then tried to encourage her as best she could, yet fearful Nellie's limited education would prevent her securing an office position—and so she told her frankly.

"You see you can't spell correctly. Nellie, which is as important as typing quickly. Speed doesn't count if the work isn't well done."

"I'm so discouraged, Cora! I didn't have no right to come to you with my troubles. I wasn't coming till I came in my own auto with two men on the box, but thought I wouldn't wait till then—you'd be too old to know me," she tried to smile.

"Now take your hat off and stay er Days."

to lunch with me. Perhaps I can think of something while I cook it."

"Do you cook in your room too?" "Sh-s—not so loud. Yes, most of us girls have to. I earn good wages but I send mother part, and it costs a lot to keep looking neat and tidy. One has to in an office."

"Um—let me help." Nellie rose to cross the room, when suddenly everything went black, and she fell forward on the floor.

Quickly Cora lifted her on the bed, and sprinkled her face, with water from the pitcher. It was a simple faint, and Nellie soon opened her eyes and smiled wanly up at Cora.

"Don't be frightened. I'll be all right as soon as I—get that lunch," she whispered.

"You mean you are—hungry? You fainted because of that? Oh, you poor brave little thing! Here," she held a glass of milk to Nellie's lips, "drink this, it will help until I get you something hot."

"My stomach's having a surprise party," Nellie said as she fell back on the couch after finishing the milk. Cora had forbidden her to stir until lunch was ready.

How did your neighbor's last bargain tire turn out

PROBABLY you know at least one car-owner who is always on the look-out for the cheapest tires he can find. He likes to get them by mail or at a sale or at some place where they have big red bargain signs over the door.

It would be fine if he could get "the edge" in every tire trade.

But the dealer can't afford to let him have it.

Even if a man saw any slight percentage in tire shopping at all—it disappeared when the "Usco" brought the price down.

A standard product—and the dealer sells it with pride.

A good tire. The dealer has no desire to trade you into a larger profit for himself.

An out-in-the-open tire. The dealer sells you confidence, not price. He wants you satisfied with performance and value. The only way he knows to get your business is to deserve it.

This is the "Usco" idea.

Compared with the ten-minute thrill of the bargain appeal, the "Usco" is just plain common-sense.
